"Democracy in Action" is definitely the practice of members of the Garfield Student Council. This year the group, capably sponsored by Miss DeVaney and led by President Jim Thomson, had a banner year in activities. Jim attended the national convention of the National Association of Student Councils in St. Louis, and came home with plenty of new ideas.

In September, a welcome assembly was presented for new students. Immediately, the Council got busy with details of sponsoring the successful Magazine Campaign.

A new service was inaugurated this year when the sale of Savings Stamps was replaced by a School Banking System. Homeroom representatives handled the details of this work also.

In December, the Council worked diligently in preparing a float for the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade, but their efforts were well rewarded when "Stocking Up for Christmas" rolled up Wabash Avenue straight to a first prize.

The sole money-making project of the Council, the Varieties of 1959, again had the SRO sign out as Joyce Jackson and Judy Jerrels co-chairmen another successful show.

New additions to the school, voted by the Student Council from the Magazine profits, were a new piano for the gymnasium and another electric water cooler for the upper hall. Records have been purchased through the year by the Council for the noon DJ show and for dancing in the halls during the noon hour.

The Student Council has again served well as the true representative organization of the entire school, being composed of representatives elected by each class and each homeroom. The thoughts and ideas of the student body are interpreted to the administration through this organization whose sole aim is for a better Garfield.

Ultimate goal of members of the Garfield Players, dramatic organization, is earn to enough points in dramatic work to become members of the National Thespian Society.

This year the group has presented several one-act plays, and as its final work of the year, a three-act comedy entitled "Mother Is a Freshman," which was a big success.

Each year the climax is the banquet at which final awards are presented.
