

What is Garfield?

. . . . a school where co-curricular activities give us opportunities

. . . to learn to work together.

. . . to develop hobbies.

. . . to further cultural interests.

. . . to learn the democratic way.

. . . to work for the best interests of our school and of our community.

Making our class booths for the Jamboree occupies our time in the days before school opens as we vie with each other to prepare booths at which voting takes place to elect "Most Popular Girl" from each class for our school as well as opportunities to win prizes for our classes and for ourselves.

Georgia Thomson, Class of '59, presides over "Senior Big Top."

Marvin Haney, President of the Class of '59, accepts the class award from Student Council President Jim Thomson. For the third time, the Class of '59 wins the top award . . . Reading counter-clockwise: Student Council officers paint the final total on the huge thermometer at the end of the campaign —ALMOST nine thousand dollars worth of sales . . .

. . . The coronation of the Queen of the Purple Eagles gives us all the thrill of pageantry . . .

as Chad Swander, acting captain, places the crown on the head of Susie Templeton.

Ladies-in-waiting, their escorts, the flag bearers — all add color and dignity to the impressive procession . .

Attendants Sharon Parkhurst, Judy Rassic, Carol Bonness, and Nancy Poynter curtsy to their Queen.

A football game and a Queen's Ball — all add up to a long-to-be-remembered week-end for our Queen and for all of us . . .

. . . As we proudly watch our Queen and Attendants atop their white "Caddy" convertible at the Garfield-Wiley game

. . . and then greet them officially in the receiving line at the Queen's Ball for which the yell leaders are hostesses . . .

. . . and pause, along with Co-Captains Chad and Ronnie to admire the "Turkey" — symbol of victory.

A chance to "try our wings" at show business comes our way . . .

. . . in the . . .

senior class play . . .
